Back to tonight, I would like to extend a warm Bolton welcome to Phil Holder and his Brentford boys who, like ourselves, are chasing promotion.

They came unstuck at the weekend but we have seen enough this season already to know that they are a powerful unit and will give us a very difficult game.

I think everyone who was at Old Trafford for the F.A. Cup tie last week will accept that we have shown with that performance that we are capable of competing with the best. We all enjoyed that day and I'm sure there are more occasions like that to come in the future.

But the hardest thing is getting there. That is why we all have to make the effort to move up the ladder. All other considerations are out of the window and our only aim now is promotion.

Again, and I make no excuses for repeating myself, it is important that we have your support as we try to push forward. The team has shown often enough that they can respond to your vocal support-espe-

his evening we welcome the players, officials and supporters of Brentford to Burnden Park, Surprisingly beaten 1-2 at home to bottom club Rotherham last Saturday, the Bees will be anxious to close the three point gap between themselves and the Wanderers by repeating last April's victory at Burnden, earned thanks to an 8th minute Dean Holdsworth goal.

Brentford are currently placed fifth with 42 points from 26 games. Away from home this term they have won at Mansfield (2-0). Bradford (1-0), Reading (2-1) and Birmingham (2-0) and drawn at Swansea, Rotherham, Preston, Exeter, Stoke and Crewe, In their last away game Brentford went down 0-2 at Bournemouth, a result which ended a run of nine games undefeated in the League. They recovered from this to beat inform Swansea 2-0 at Griffin Park before last Saturday's shock defeat. Against Rotherham, Keith Jones gave the Bees a 15th minute lead but the visitors recovered to score twice in the second-half. the winner coming from Tony Cullen, on loan from Sunderland, one minute from the end.

began the season as one of the promotion favourites. Last season they recovered from a disastrous start to finish a creditable 13th. This after they began the New Year in 24th position. A run of seven wins and a draw in 8 games in January and February took Brentford up to 9th before a bout of injuries put paid to any hopes of a play-off spot.

The injury crisis did enable to club to blood a number of their emerging young players in the first-team, Jason Cousins, Marcus Gayle, Rob Peters, Paul Buckle and Andy Driscoll, all products of the trainee ranks, were given valuable Third Division experience.

The resignation of manager Steve Perryman in August threatened to disrupt the Bees' early season preparation. Perryman. now at Watford, was replaced by his assistant Phil Holder to ensure continuity at Griffin Park, Holder, a former player of Spurs, Crystal Palace and Bournemouth, had been at the club since February. 1987

The return of striker Gary Blissett, after missing the early months of the season due to injury, has helped boost the Bees' good tally. Blissett leads the way with 13 goals in League and cup. EXTRA PROMOTION PLACES PROVIDE ADDED INCENTIVE

With more promotion places available this season then ever before in Football League history, clubs in every Division now have additional incentives and a greater chance of being involved in the promotion race right up to the final stages of the season. Indeed, these greater opportunities should have a significant positive effect on attendances as the season approaches its climax. The ups and downs are shown below.

PROMOTION AND RELEGATION SEASON 1990-91

Division One (Two down) Bottom two clubs relegated.

Division Two (Four up two down) Top three clubs automatically promoted, plus one from the next four placed clubs via the play-offs. Bottom two clubs relegated.

Division Four (Five up none down) Top four clubs automatically promoted, plus one from the next four placed clubs via the play-offs. No relegation. Football Conference champions promoted to The Football League.

GROUNDSMEN TO PITCH IN AT SEMINARS

The Football League, in conjunction with the Sports Turf Research Institute, has organised two one-day seminars for the groundsmen from all 92 professional clubs. The regional meetings, which will be held at Old Trafford and Highbury in the first week of February, were organised by The Football League's Playing Surfaces Sub Committee whose primary aim is to raise the overall standard of natural playing surfaces.

Lectures will be given by officials from the Sports Turf Research Institute and will cover topics such as construction methods and standards, dose season maintenance, drainage and care of the pitch during the playing season.

NEW DATE FOR EXETER MATCH

Tuesday, 26th March, 1991. — 7.30 p.m. — is the night that has been arranged for the home League match with Exeter City. Our F.A. Cup tie with Barrow was the original date for the game (5th January) but now Terry Cooper's boys, including former Wanderer Trevor Morgan, will be visiting us on the last Tuesday of March.

LEAGUE APPOINT NEW MARKETING EXECUTIVE

Steve Sutherland, who for the last three years was Charlton Athletic's Commercial manager, has been appointed as The Football League's new Marketing Executive. Steve will be based at The Commercial and Marketing Department's offices in Central London.

Steve's responsibilities will primarily be directed at providing a service for club commercial departments which will include the development of the Product Services Division, provision of research material, database marketing services, sales training and promotional marketing techniques. He will also assist in developing central licensing and merchandising promotions.

Captain Phil Brown came through his training injury scare to keep intact his unbeaten run in the team since joining us from Halifax in 1988. Phil in fact marked dangerman Lee Sharpe out of the game in the F.A. Cup tie at Manchester United proving once again that their aren't many better full backs in the game than the Wanderer's skipper.

Wanderers new boy Mark Patterson weaves his way through the Shrewsbury midfield.

When Phil Neal splasher out $50,000 last March to bring 20 year old Scott to Burnden Park from Derby County it did raise quite a few eyebrows because the Midlands born youngster had yet to play in a first team game for the Rams. The investment though is already looking to be sound judgement on the part of the manager with Scott proving to be a most valuable member of the playing sauad.

Scott began his football education playing for Darlaston Comprehensive School in Walsall, graduating to the district team. It was here that he was spotted by the then Derby County chief scout Ron Dukes who is now at Wolves, it was he who was instrumental in taking him to the Baseball Ground on a two year YTS apprenticeship.

Working his way through the Ateam and reserves, Scott played mainly as a centre-forward for the Midlands outfit and even enjoyed a six month loan spell playing in Finland for where he scored 32 goals in just 24 games, an experience he really did enjoy. "It was great, even though the cost of living is far greater than over here I had a smashing time and even contemplated moving over there permanently

We asked him how did he hear about the interest from Bolton last season, "Well I was suspended at the time and was just about ready to travel over to Manchester City to see our reserves side play when manager Arthur Cox phoned me and asked wether I was interested in joining Bolton Wanderers, I made my mind up there and then to sign and I have had no regrets so far. A look at the club reserves

Tonight we take an update of the fortunes of our Reserve side as they chase one of the promotion places in the Second Division of the Pontins Central League.

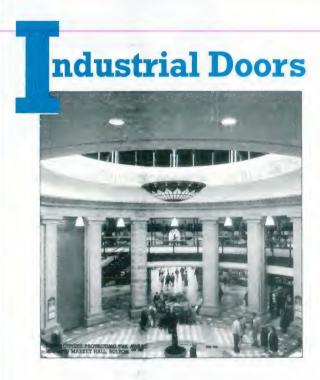

Steve Carroll, the Wanderers Reserve Team Coach, has had to put up with a number of postponed games in recent weeks, due to the bad weather. But he reflects on the season so far. "It's been good up to now, we've managed to keep a settled side for the majority of the time. Competition for places has been healthy and we've a good blend of youth and experience" he stated.

The Reserve side suffered much the same as the first team at the beginning of the season, with injuries having a knock-on effect throughout the Club, leaving the second team outfit very much under-strength. This of course didn't help results on the park with the Reserves suffering their only three defeats to date in their first four matches.

"That's right, we had to play youngsters who were not quite ready for it, but we've done very well since with the wealth of experienced professionals blending well with the young lads" he added.

We asked him — Had any team performances stood out so far in the campaign? "Quite a few really, but the one that springs to mind is the home match with Port Valein December. They had a strong team out that night, but our lads played some great stuff. Unfortunately, the chances would not go in and we had to settle for a 1-1 draw in the end."

As coy as ever, when we asked him about the prospect of promotion to the First Division - "We'll take each game as it comes. It goes without saying that we are looking to go Up, that would be a good test facing the Manchester United's and Liverpool's, but there is still a long way to go" he added.

The impressive run that the Reserves have achieved since September has left everyone at Burnden Park optimistic that a 'Promotion Double' can be achieved, come May.

REVIEWING 1973...

28th April, 1973. Division Three Attendance: 21,646

Bolton Wand. 2 — 0 Brentford
(Nicholson, Byram)

Our fine away victory at Birminghamsaw us encounter yet another programme priced at the £1 level.

A colourful cover failed to hide an overall disappointing issue in which the highlights were 'Terrace Talk' and 'Scene on Three'. At least these two articles did make interesting reading. The coverage of the Wanderers was indeed basic to say the least and never mentioned current form. The spread of colour throughout the issue was quite good but far better use of the photographs could have been made use of.

It's a disappointing effort from Birmingham after last season's fine programme and itreally does prove the point that a little bit of colour does not justify such a big increase in price.

wo new faces appeared in the Wanderers side for the opening day visit to Brentford which resulted in a 2-2 draw.

Firstly, George Ainsley, a £2000 buy from Sunderland, was at inside right whilst at outside left David Halford made his debut after arriving from Derby County. Unfortunately neither signing was successful, Ainsley's stay lasting only until December when he was sold to Leeds after only 7 appearances, whilst Halford took to the field in only 5 games during the season.

GTTaylor commenced his seventh consecutive season without missing a game his sequence beginning on April 12th 1930 for Notts County at Southampton.

Worrying times for the club were ahead with the team being far from consistent, thus a stable first division place, which was needed from a financial angle, was not assured.

The early season saw many drawbacks. Centre half Jack Atkinson fractured a shin bone in a home 0-0 draw with Preston and with only one win in the opening seven games the team were placed 20th in the table. One bright spot was the debut of Stan Hanson on September 19th in a 2-0 reverse at Huddersfield. Stan was to become another famous
